WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6.

The New Mexican supported the Republican ticket loyally, as the result shows.

Strict and evenhanded justice for the men accused of the murder of Albert J. Fountain and 12-year-old son, no more and no less.

Uncle Sam's back is nearly up. Spain had best beware, the old man is not easily pacified, when his temper is really ruffled.

The Republicans carried the town of Socorro yesterday by 100 majority. Pretty good indication how Socorro county will go next November.

Spain is equivocating, blustering, lying, threatening and cringing in rotation. It will not do. Cuba must be free and the treacherous destruction of the battleship Maine must be atoned for.

Mr. ZOLA is to make a lecture tour of this country. He will thus be able to fully explain to Americans the opera bouffe character of his recent trial and the farcical ending of the case against him in the French courts.

A class of 47 young women lawyers graduated in New York City a few days ago. They may never be great lawyers, but a nickel to a cent, they looked pretty and kissable in their caps and gowns.

The Spanish fleet is still at Cape Verde Islands, 2,800 miles off, and the yellow newspapers and those persons who condemned President McKinley and the administration for not sending a fleet to intercept the Spanish torpedo flotilla evidently did not know what they were talking about.

The city of Santa Fe elected the Republican majority ticket yesterday by an average majority of 150. This means, that with good nominations and a loyal support of the Republican ticket during the coming county campaign, the Republican ticket, county, legislative and delegate, will sweep this county by a very handsome majority.

The recent order of Captain General Blanco, permitting the reconcentrados in western Cuba to return to their homes would be all right, could it be carried out. The great trouble with its execution is, that few of these unhappy and starving people can go to their homes and still a smaller number have any homes to go to.

The American fleets on the Atlantic are assuming very respectable proportions and judging from the past history of the American navy and from the past character and intelligence of its present personnel, these fleets will give a very good account of themselves should they meet Spain's cruisers, battleships and torpedo flotilla in actual warfare. No apprehensions on that score need be felt.

Reading the proceedings of the present Maryland legislature, it seems as if there were three Republican parties there. When the Democrats were in power and had a majority in the legislature, there was only one Republican party in that body and in the state and therefore it was successful. The moral in this fact is obvious, but the Republicans of Maryland do not wish to heed it, which is deplorable and injurious to the best interests of the party in the state.

The gospel of arbitration is all right as far as it goes, but how about the loss of the Maine and the murder of 266 of the country sailors? How about the vast injury done this country in its trade by the Spanish warfare in Cuba? How about the many thousands of innocent men, women and children murdered and the destruction of millions of dollars' worth of property in unhappy Cuba? Are there not two sides to this arbitration business?

THIRTY-FOUR and one-half millions of the $50,000,000 for national defense, recently appropriated, have already been spent and that in less than a month. Preparations of war are very costly, but actual war is still more so and, nevertheless, it looks as if it were bound to come, unless Spain does right, gives up its hold on Cuba, and pays full and satisfactory indemnity and reparation for its treacherous conduct in the destruction of the United States battleship Maine.

THE NEW MEXICAN supported Captain J. R. Hudson for mayor very strongly. Now the New Mexican expects that Captain Hudson will administer the honorable and important office of mayor for the best interests of the city and of the taxpayers. Captain Hudson, it is fully believed and expected by the voters, who supported him, will do so. The taxpayers, property owners and citizens of the capital want a clean, well lighted and orderly city, and the New Mexican is of the opinion, that under Captain Hudson's administration this will be the case.

How the yellow journals and a lot of thoughtless people howled and how the administration was accused of being derelict in its duty in not intercepting the Spanish men-of-war and Spanish flotilla on the broad bosom of the great Atlantic ocean! How they howled and yelled and shrieked themselves hoarse! and now it turns out, there was nothing to intercept, that the flotilla is still at the Cape Verde island, 2,800 miles from America, and may return to the Canary Islands, instead of steaming westward.

The Republican nominees for city offices voted for on yesterday were very good men and the voters stood by them, as the vote cast demonstrates. There were one or two improper men elected on the Republican ward tickets, but the result as a whole is very gratifying to the respectable element of the Republican party and of the voters of Santa Fe and indicates, that public sentiment is strongly in favor of good, clean men for official positions in this city, that this feeling is growing and becoming stronger. In a year from now the Republicans will do still better, although they did well enough on yesterday.

OUR more or less esteemed contemporary in Las Vegas worries itself a good deal again about the New Mexican and its editor. This must be expected; this paper is a thorn in the side of the Optic, its editors and its correspondents, nothing more and nothing less, and a right sharp thorn, and what is more will keep on in its course battling for the rights of the people of New Mexico and for what is good for the commonwealth and the community it is published in. This paper has neither time nor inclination to worry itself about our esteemed contemporary, or its editors or its correspondents. This paper is getting the support of the decent and respectable part of the community; for the rest it cares not a continental red cent.

The Monroe Doctrine Again Recognized.

The Cuban question, before it is settled, will result in more than the freedom of that island. Underneath the noise of dispute and preparation for war between Spain and the United States, forces are quietly at work arranging a tacit understanding among the nations of Europe that the American continent is under the protection of the stars and stripes, and that the Monroe doctrine must hereafter be regarded, not only in the letter, but in the spirit.

France, whose capitalists are largely interested in Spanish bonds, in an endeavor to secure the payment of money due, attempted to arrange concerted action among the European nations for mediation and possibly armed intervention in the questions involved in the dispute, and would have been successful but for the peremptory refusal of Great Britain to have anything to do with the matter. English statesmen recognize the fact that Cuba is American territory; that for hundreds of years Spain has been in unmolested possession, so far as the United States is concerned, and had the inhabitants been treated with the degree of consideration and humanity required by civilization, no attempt would ever have been made to disturb Spanish control. The fact that the time has come to put a stop to conditions on the island which have become a reproach to Christianity is also recognized; that under the Monroe doctrine this country would never permit a foreign nation to interfere, and therefore the matter lies wholly in the hands of the United States for adjustment. For these reasons the European intervention failed.

It is within reason to assert that in future the Monroe doctrine will not be sneered at by Transatlantic governments and they will be very guarded in actions which have in the least any appearance of encroachment upon American territory or mixing into matters which clearly lie within the province of the United States to settle. In addition to the sentiment virtually expressed by Great Britain, the unanimity with which the Americans vote money to buy battleships and munitions of war, and their readiness in furnishing men for armies will have a tendency to prevent any rash actions on the part of any nation when dealing with questions which concern the Western hemisphere.

Iron Is King.

The development and control of the iron industry of the world is proving a favorite theme with industrial writers at the present time, and the number of articles on the subject which have appeared the past three months all tend to one conclusion: that the United States has reached a point in the working of iron ores where competition by the other nations of the world is out of the question.

In the south, cotton has for many years been regarded as "king" in many of the western states, notably Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska. "Korn is king" is a trite and applicable saying and advertisement, but these products must give way to iron and its products. For decades England held the commerce of the world in her hands by reason of her ability to supply all countries with superior qualities of the different grades of iron and steel, but for the past three years there has been a noticeable falling off in the sales of those articles to other countries, and she has even become a customer of the United States for manufactured iron. Statistical writers now look upon that industry as one of the rapidly decreasing ones of that land.

The demands made upon the coal and iron mines of England and Wales have so exhausted the deposits near the surface of the ground that the supply is inadequate to supply the market, while the expense of working the lower levels is such as to prevent meeting prices made by American manufacturers. In the United States the coal and iron beds are enormous and in most of the fields lie so near the surface that mining operations are of little consideration in the cost of the output; the proximity of the two deposits are such that freight rates are almost eliminated, while the supply is inexhaustible. American ingenuity has overcome many of the problems of treating iron ores, and taking all in all the iron workers of Yankeedom are so fortunately situated that they now virtually command the markets of the world.

The deductions of iron experts, from all the conditions surrounding the industry are that the manufacturers and iron mine owners of the United States have secured a virtual monopoly of the business and will hold it until ages of delving and smelting have exhausted the supply in the country, and by that time iron and coal will no longer be necessary to the comfort and happiness of the human family.

So far as has been heard no one in America is shedding any tears over the ever-whirling change of time that has brought this condition about, and made the commercial supremacy of the country possible.

Will Prove Satisfactory.

Chief Justice Mills has appointed W. S. Shepherd, of Tularosa, to succeed Guy H. Herbert as United States court commissioner. Mr. Shepherd's appointment will prove a very satisfactory one. —Sacramento Chief.

Good Advice.

The cattle stealing business in this county may soon result in early morning surprises in the way of a human spectacle dangling from a tree where no inquest is deemed necessary. If you have relatives in the business, for the sake of funeral expenses, urge them to mend their ways. —Springer Stockman.

The Kemp and Kennon Acquittal.

The verdict of acquittal rendered Wednesday night by the jury in the case of the Territory vs. Kemp and Kennon is regarded by a large majority of the thinking, conservative citizens of Roswell and Chaves counties as a deplorable mistake. The jury had to decide the case according to the evidence and the instructions of the court and could not know what was known by persons outside. It is to be hoped that the verdict will not be interpreted by cattlemen and man-killers as an invitation to locate here. —Roswell Register.

THE SEVENTH Beet Sugar factory in the United States was erected at Eddy, New Mexico, in 1896, and made its first "campaign," beginning November 15th, 1896, and closing February 15th, 1897.

THE CONTENT OF "SUGAR in the beet" of the crop grown in the Eddy and Roswell sections of the valley has proven to be more uniformly high than any other part of the United States.

FORTUNATELY the land is blessed with just the fertility to produce high grade beets, and

MORE FORTUNATELY the Pecos Irrigation and Improvement Co. and the Roswell Land and Water Co. have an irrigation system of great magnitude, covering a vast body of the BEST SUGAR BEET lands on earth. The water is applied to the crop WHEN NEEDED.

SWIFT'S

Is needed by every one at this season of the year. The lack of energy and depressed, listless feeling which takes possession of the system every spring and summer is caused by an impure condition of the blood. The accumulated impurities of a year combat nature's effort to throw them off, a struggle to which the system is unequal, unless properly assisted. Boils and pimples and an incessant weariness tell the story. The appetite fails just when a good one is needed, the energies relax, and an unspeakable languor pervades the wornout body. Every one knows the importance of thoroughly cleansing the blood and purifying the system and thus avoiding the deadly typhoid fever and other dangerous diseases which crowd the path of summer. But it is equally important that the right remedy be taken at this critical period—one which will purify and build up the system at the same time. For this purpose nothing can compare with Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). A few bottles just now will thoroughly cleanse the blood and renovate and strengthen the system, improve the appetite, and impart new life and vigor to the entire body. It is the best system-builder because it is the best blood remedy—the only one, in fact, which is purely vegetable, and guaranteed to contain not a particle of arsenic, mercury, potash, or chemical of any kind. S. S. S. is far ahead of other blood remedies, for it does so much more. It promptly reaches and cures deep-seated, obstinate blood diseases, which other remedies have no effect whatever upon. It matters not what other treatment has failed, S. S. S. cures Catarrh, Eczema, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Cancer, and Contagious Blood Poison, even in their worst stages. Insist on S. S. S., and do not be imposed upon by accepting an inferior article without merit or reputation. A larger profit to an unscrupulous dealer will induce him to offer you a substitute composed of harmful drugs and chemicals. S. S. S. is nature's remedy, being made from roots and herbs gathered from nature's store-house. It is not a drug-shop preparation, and no tinkering drug-clerk can imitate it by mixing a few chemicals from his stock. Remember that there is no substitute for S. S. S., the only real blood remedy. It is truly the greatest purifier.
